Rebellious Boston Convicts May Settle For Less Than Freedom

BOSTON (AP)—State prison authorities today saw indications the four rebellious convicts holding five guards hostages for the third day may soon be ready to settle for less than freedom despite their

Russians Free Louisiana Man, Held Six Years

BERLIN (AP)—Pvt. William A. Verdine of Starks, La., was released by the Russians in Berlin today after six years of Soviet captivity, including a long stretch in Vorkuta Prison Camp.

Verdine is the third American to come from Vorkuta this month. The Soviets, acceding to repeated requests, turned loose John H. Noble of Detroit, and Pvt. William Marchuk, of Norristown, Pa., on Jan. 8.

Verdine has been listed by the Army as missing since 1949. He had been stationed with the 14th Armored Cavalry at Coburg in West Germany, not far from the American-Soviet zonal frontier.

The soldier was reported at various times in Russian prison camps by German and Austrian repatriates. Noble on his release here, said Verdine was not in good health.

Airman Sucked Into Jet Engine Escapes With Minor Injuries

SALINA, Kan. (AP)—Sucked into the mouth of a B41 jet engine, that was the fate of Airman 2C Donald G. Saum of Newaygo, Mich. Yet Saum escaped with nothing but minor cuts.

The flier was climbing a small step stand to check a fuel filter Wednesday when he was pulled to the mouth by the powerful intake of the engine.

Two fellow crewmen went to his rescue. One cut the engine speed while the other pulled Saum from the engine mouth.

Detroit Bar Owner Kills Girl And Self In Broken Romance

DETROIT (AP)—Draught over his broken romance, a Detroit bar owner apparently murdered his attractive blonde girl friend Wednesday then committed suicide, police said today.

A maid found the bodies of Jack Frank Fera, 47, and Sue Marie Myers, 21, in a room at the Brink's Hotel in downtown Detroit yesterday. Detectives said the couple had been dead for about 12 hours.

Officers said Fera evidently shot Miss Myers in the chest, slashed her wrists in an adjoining bathroom, then returned to the bedroom where he fired his .45 caliber pistol into his own chest. Fera's wallet contained $531.

Miss Myers, police said, had been keeping company with Fera since she came to Detroit about three years ago from her home in Powe, Mo. She was a receptionist with a Detroit drug store chain and also worked evenings as a hostess in a downtown cocktail lounge.

Irene Simonds, a girl friend of Miss Myers, said the couple had quarreled three months ago and Miss Myers had been avoiding Fera ever since.

The Rev. Edward P. Hartigan, prison Catholic chaplain, and Dr. Samuel Merlin, prison physician, listened to the four hardened criminals for an hour and a half Wednesday night and later told newsmen:

"The men say they are determined to hold out, but we are optimistic as to the eventual outcome."

Father Hartigan said "one of the injustices they feel greatly is the type of sentencing in the criminal courts of the commonwealth, whereby men are sentenced for very long terms which takes from their hearts any hope."

Guards Not Mistrated

"They agree," the chaplain said, "that proper sentencing is practiced in California whereby a man is sentenced for an indefinite period, limited to life, which gives him a year-to-year hope according to the progress he himself makes in prison."

The 35-year-old priest said that was the convicts' principal complaint. He did not outline any further grievances.

He said the convicts were "very courteous, respectful and talkative, indicating a desire to lay bare their problems."

He said the hostage guards "have been given every consideration and courtesy. No officer has been mistreated."

Dr. Merlin said that although he seen three guns in the possession of the rebellious convicts, there has been no bullying display of them at any time.

Family members of all four desperate convicts tried Wednesday to persuade them to release the hostages and surrender peacefully—but all pleas failed.

Family Appeals Fail

In an unprecedented move, 17-year-old Barbara (Toby) Green made a tearful but fruitless face-to-face appeal to her father, Teddy Green, 39, notorious bank robber and escape artist. She stood in the courtyard and he stood just inside a low window of the besieged solitary confinement cellblock.

Jeannette Balben, of Hudson, also a teen-ager, went to the prison to try to reason with her father, Walter H. Balben, 38, robber and gunman, but he refused to talk to her.

The Boston Post said in a copyrighted article that the mother of Joseph Flaherty, 32, of Boston, called him on the telephone to plead with him to surrender. The long-term rapist hung up on his mother, the Post said.

Also through the telephone that goes from the besieged block to the prison switchboard went an appeal to Fritz O. Swenson, 31, a Boston cop killer, from his brother Russell, 35. "He said he just won't listen," said Russell.

The rebellion began when the four prisoners sawed their way free from cells in the solitary confinement block and grabbed five guards as hostages Tuesday.

The hostages are getting three hot meals a day, delivered by the priest and physician. The prisoners have agreed not to take it. They have a meager supply of their own.

Officers would not answer questions either about the man's identity or any other development in their hunt for the person or persons who planted the nitroglycerine bomb in one of the Weaver automobiles.

Tom Green County Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes said no arrest warrants had been issued. He refused to comment about possible suspects but did say he was working with information furnished by Weaver and other members of the family.

Weaver, 60, said he was in the big, old-fashioned home of Mrs. Weaver's mother, Mrs. Ralph Harris, when the blast occurred outside. They resided on a showplace ranch 23 miles north of the capital, the Nicaraguan capital, Figueroa, meanwhile, predicted today would see the decisive stage in his government's fight against the rebels in northwest Costa Rica.

Reports from the fighting front indicated the loyalists—supported by aerial bombing from a converted airliner—were trying to outflank the rebels and cut them off from the border over which Figueroa's charges they came.

Although the skirmishes were referred to as big battles in the local press, observers said they actually were more like guerrilla clashes with few casualties on either side. The crew of the converted airliner has been aiding the loyalists' ground drive by dropping oxygen tanks filled with explosives. In the fighter attack on La Cruz, the Costa Ricans reportedly shot up a light plane on an airfield, strafed a house and damaged a tractor.

The five-nation commission made its proposal in the wake of a protest from Nicaraguan President Anastasio Somoza that two Costa Rican F51 fighters, on their first mission since the planes arrived Monday from the United States, had veered over Nicaraguan territory Wednesday during an attack on the rebel held town of La Cruz, seven miles from the border.

Somoza, a longtime foe of the Costa Rican president announced four of his own fighters would patrol the border to meet any further trespassers. He told a news conference Wednesday night in Managua, the Nicaraguan capital, that the situation could become "an international conflict."

Administrative Recommendations For City Government Proposed

A survey report complimentary to Escanaba's past accomplishments and containing definite recommendations for streamlining the administrative organization of city government was reviewed last night by Escanaba's City Council at an informal dinner meeting at the Delta Hotel.

The report was submitted by the J. L. Jacobs Company of Chicago, administrative consultants and engineers, following a survey and analysis made at the request of the City Council. The cost of the survey was $3,600.

Martin D. Miller, a representative of the Jacobs Company who conducted the survey here, and representatives of local radio stations and the press attended the informal gathering of the Council, City Manager and Clerk. Copies of the Jacobs report were released for publication following the meeting.

Looking Forward

After citing Escanaba's "significant accomplishments," the report lists a "Summary Recommendations — Looking Forward." These are presented in their entirety as follows:

1 — Consolidate the present 13 departments and offices which now report directly to the city manager, into seven departments with seven officials reporting to the city manager.

2 — Establish a Department of Administration and Finance to include the functions of the city clerk and treasurer, property assessment and building inspection, personnel, purchasing and fiscal, cost and utility accounting.

3 — Combine the offices of city clerk and city treasurer into one office within the department of administration and finance and eliminate one of these offices. The city clerk and treasurer should be appointed by the city manager rather than the council.

Utilities Under One Head

4 — Include the office of city assessor as a part of the new department of administration and finance and add the duties of building inspector to the city assessor. The city assessor should be appointed by the city manager rather than the council.

Efficiency, Savings

In most cases, adoption of the recommendations will only require administrative action. In a few cases it will be necessary for the city council to amend existing ordinances, the Jacobs Company reported.

Adoption of the proposals by the city council will provide integrated administration and place the city in line with proven advances in public administration and management. Their adoption will also result in increased coordination of the organization and functions and the provision of essential municipal services at lower costs and money savings," it was reported.

In citing Escanaba's "significant accomplishments," the following was noted by the Jacobs Company in its report:

Escanaba is "in a position of leadership among American municipal government" because it has enlightened participation of the citizenry in general; a simplified council manager plan; well balanced administrative and fiscal practices and effective machinery of local administration of local public services.

List Accomplishments

Another accomplishment is the administration of civil service on the basis of merit and ability; effective budgetary and fiscal controls and centralized purchasing.

6 — Establish a central department of utilities to include as divisions the present electric distribution department, the water and sewage disposal department, the gas and steam department and the water service department. Abolish the positions of Superintendent of Electric Distribution, Superintendent of Water and Sewage Disposal and Superintendent of Gas and Steam plants and provide for the position of Director of Utilities.

Safety Director Advised

7 — Include in the department of engineering and public works the present tree trimming and forestry services of the department of parks and forestry and the engineering services for the Planning Commission. The position of Superintendent of Parks and Forestry should be abolished.

8 — Establish the Department of Public Safety to include as divisions the present police department and fire department. Abolish the positions of Police Chief and Fire Chief and provide for the position of Director of Public Safety to have administrative charge of the fire and police divisions.

9 — Establish a Department of Parks and Recreation to include the parks operating and house-keeping functions with the Recreation Department and add such duties to the Recreation Director.

10 — Relieve the Board of Library Trustees of direct operational control of the City Public Library and provide that the Public Library shall be a department of the city government under the city manager, operating with the advisory assistance of the Library Board.

Appointed By Manager

11 — Continue the City Attorney as an appointee of the city manager and amend the City Charter to provide that the City Attorney shall be appointed by the city manager.

12 — Provide that all advisory and judicial board and commission members shall be appointed by the city manager, subject to approval of the city council.

13 — Adopt the recommended specifications and qualifications for all personnel and provide compensation for executive, supervisory and other personnel as set out in the following section and in the report on the classification and compensation plan.

14 — Adopt and provide for the selection of personnel in vacated positions according to the qualifications set out in the recommended specifications of duties and qualifications for the respective offices and positions.

The Jacobs report is in two sections. The second covers classification and compensation plans for city service.

15 — Provide for the position of personnel and administrative assistant in charge of the personnel division in the department of administration and finance. This employee will assist the city manager and director of administration and finance in matters of personnel classification, recruiting and training, budget preparations, and periodic or special administrative analysis and reports with recommendations.

6 — Establish a central department of utilities to include as divisions the present electric distribution department, the water and sewage disposal department, the gas and steam department and the water service department. Abolish the positions of Superintendent of Electric Distribution, Superintendent of Water and Sewage Disposal and Superintendent of Gas and Steam plants and provide for the position of Director of Utilities.

Fire Help Refused

MIDLAND (AP) — Fire spread from an adjoining garage and destroyed the home of George Mys Tuesday night with loss he estimated at $10,000. Mys, his wife and four of their six children who were home escaped without injury. Mys said four fire companies in the area refused to come to his aid, contending his property, nine miles west of Midland, was not under their jurisdiction.

'Initiative For Armory And Civic Center Must Come From Community'

The initiative in procuring a combination National Guard and armory and community building for Escanaba at a comparatively very reasonable cost to the city must come entirely from the community, it was emphasized at an informal meeting here yesterday noon.

The total cost of an armory would be approximately $350,000, and the Federal government has allocated and is ready to pay $200,000 toward construction of an armory in a community which has a National Guard unit. Escanaba businessmen were informed.

Escanaba is one of several communities in the Upper Peninsula which has a National Guard unit. Ironwood recently procured a large armory and a beautiful structure currently is being built to house Marquette's Guard company.

Soo Line Quits Steam Engines

The Soo Line division at Gladstone has been completely converted to diesel locomotives.

The last steam locomotive was pulled out of service Tuesday after carrying freight run No. 81 from Rapid River A. W. Durtschie, Milwaukee, Soo Line traveling engineer, operated the throttle.

The division now has five diesel locomotives in operation. Ironically enough, the last steam locomotive in the Gladstone division was a hand-fired unit, built in 1909.

Letters To The Editor

Editor
Escanaba Daily Press
Escanaba, Michigan

Dear Sir:

There has been much said and written about the power and light situation, in relation to the future of the City of Escanaba, but so far, no one has produced the actual facts in this important matter now confronting the people of this city. I firmly believe that the taxpayers of the city will have the final say in deciding what is best for the community.

To go back a few years, our present municipal electric utility, was started by a group of civic-minded taxpayers, most of them prominent business and professional men. These people gave to the city for the sum of $30,000 the distribution system that we now have. Over the years, through the use of electricity in our homes and industry, this power greatly increased in proportion to the use of electricity. During the past 16 years, this increase in power usage created a profit in our electric utility of approximately $2,225,000 and there isn't one penny left in depreciated reserves to show this profit. The City of Escanaba should have had enough money from this tidy profit, to build its own new power plant, free and clear of any bonded indebtedness. I have always maintained that this profit from the electric utility has not been properly channeled, as required by the city charter, if it had been properly allocated, the money would be there to build our own power plant.

In the year 1949, the man in charge of our power plant, notified the city manager that the equipment was in such terrible condition that human lives were being threatened. He claimed that $75,000 had to be spent immediately on rehabilitation, otherwise he would resign and make his reasons known to the public.

A semester holiday on Friday will afford the necessary time for grading, recording and preparing for report cards before the beginning of the new semester Monday, Jan. 24.

Of Escanaba, Inc.

He made his point and for the is made, when the 'bleeding hearts' in favor of municipally owned power cry that, unless they get their way, all is lost!

I am also anxiously awaiting the decision of the Michigan Public Service Commission in the matter of the rehearing now before them, on the petition of the Upper Michigan Power and Light Company's request for a rate increase. The Public Service Commission, upon competent legal advice, has jurisdiction in this matter and what would happen to the city if the steam plant were scrapped. This is something that I have advocated for years and makes the most sense in their report. Furthermore they recommend that a $5,000,000 power plant be built by the city, financed by bonds. They would stand to receive around $300,000 in consulting fees.

I ask the people of Escanaba to seriously consider this problem and I hope that the city will publish ALL of the facts in the case, not just what they want us to know.

Sincerely yours,
Harold C. "Pat" Hayes

Bipartisan Discussion Needed For Proposed Cut In Military

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

A Chicago correspondent notes with amusement that the radio newscaster Quincy Howe and his announcer seem to disagree about the pronunciation of his first name. "Mr. Howe," she reports, favors KWIN-zee, while the local announcer calls it KWIN-see. Don't you think the boys ought to get together on one pronunciation?"

Well, that may not be as easy as you think. Mr. Howe (and aren't you being just a bit flip in calling this distinguished newscaster a "boy?") is a native of Massachusetts where the last syllable of Quincy is given the "zee" value or, occasionally, "zih." Thus his pronunciation of his own name is one that has been habitual since infancy—and precious few of us can alter the speech habits of a lifetime without sounding artificial.

My guess is that the "local announcer" is of mid-West origin, for there the word is chiefly associated with the important Illinois city the name of which is pronounced KWIN-see.

Personally, I find this seeming contradiction between pronunciations rather stimulating and amusing—and I doubt that many listeners are disturbed by it. Should it be decided that one pronunciation must be chosen and adhered to by both parties, however, the decision would surely be for Mr. Howe's way of pronouncing it, since all authorities agree that the final arbiter of the pronunciation of a person's name is the person himself. That's why the editors of our leading dictionaries and such reference books as WHO'S WHO always ask eminent citizens for their own personal preferences in the pronunciation of their names.

Occasionally, in the course of such research, editors find that members of the same clan pronounce the family name differently. The Merriam-Webster editors were surprised to learn, for example, that while the x-Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, Jr., preferred to pronounce the last syllable of his name "tow" to rhyme with "cow," his father pronounced this same syllable "thaw." What made this difference in pronunciation of the surname especially remarkable was that the younger man adhered to the traditional German pronunciation, although his father had adopted the anglicized or "New World" pronunciation.

away as much confusion as possible, so we understand exactly what it is we are considering.

For one thing, President Eisenhower should make even plainer than he has the fact that giving priority to our atomic air strength does not mean reducing ground forces to an ineffectual shadow.

The concept this Administration has of the Army is of a relatively small but expertly trained and highly mobile force, backed by a tremendous reserve which could be mustered for a long war.

Such an army would surely be no shadow, nor would it encourage a potential enemy to believe we could fight only one kind of war—atomic.

Critics of the President's suggested reduction of 380,000 men apparently are trying to intimate that this force might mean the difference between being able to cope with new local wars and not being able. Actually, any such intimation is vastly misleading.

In Western Europe, we are prepared to impede if not turn back a ground offensive with American units which are part of the long NATO defense arc. There we have the advantage of dealing with friendly powers who not only permit but want our armies on their soil.

No comparable situation exists in the troubled areas of Asia and the Middle East. We have some units holding the true line in Korea and others stationed in Japan. But these are not designed as a mobile force geared to jump off at a moment's notice to help quell trouble in Indo-China, Thailand, Indonesia, Iran or elsewhere.

There is now no place in that general area where we have or could put troops for such a purpose. Having or not having an added 380,000 men will not affect this problem. However many soldiers we have, it is clear they would have to travel long distances by water or air to reach the scene of aggressions in the Middle East or Asia.

If by sea, the delay almost certainly would insure speedy triumph for the invaders. And neither this Administration nor any other has ever seriously considered creating an airborne force of sufficient size and power to fight quickly and effectively in small wars.

The problem has another side. Since the Korean aggression, which we were able to meet because we had forces just 700 miles off, the Communists may have decided never to resort to open invasion again. They may rely on subversion, the fomenting of civil war, and the clandestine shipment of arms and men across borders. This way of fighting the small war worked in Indo-China.

The mayor of a small Ohio town ruled that all goats must be run out. It probably scared some husbands.

The Doctor Says... Canker Sores Are Painful, But Not Dangerous To Life

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Unfortunately our medical investigators have not yet come up with a good answer to the question of canker sores. Questions on this subject come in continuously and the one which follows is typical.

Q—Please say something about canker sores. What causes them and what can one do for them? I get them frequently, two or three at a time.

Mrs. K.

A—This is a condition involving the formation of blisters in the mucous membrane of the mouth. The blisters break and leave a painful ulcer which ordinarily heals in a few days. However, in many persons canker sores come in bunches at intervals of only a short time over periods of months or years, thus causing a great deal of distress.

In the majority of cases a definite cause cannot be discovered though in some low-grade infection, allergy or possibly vitamin deficiency are believed responsible. Treatment of most victims of canker sores is unsatisfactory. Mild mouth washes may be soothing but do not really cure in a hurry. Although not dangerous to life, canker sores are a painful nuisance to many and anyone who can come up with a good answer on treatment, preferably based on learning the cause, will certainly deserve our gratitude.

Q—Please say something about carotid sinus syncope. Does this cause a person to get dizzy and a feeling of fainting?

Mrs. H. B.

A—There is a place in the neck where one of the large arteries divides at which there is a slight bulge known as the carotid sinus.

There are many fine nerves in the bulge

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The cynical in our midst who speak of American business men as standpatters or ultra-conservatives, timid about change and hesitant to move forward, would have been disillusioned if they could have attended the luncheon given by General Motors to several hundred of the top industrial and financial executives of the country.

Something of the imagination and boldness in planning which has made America the most powerful nation industrially in the world was reflected in the speeches made by Harlow H. Curtice, president, and Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board of the General Motors Corporation.

Sitting in the audience was Charles E. Wilson, former president of the corporation and now the secretary of defense and, if anybody had any doubt about that famous misquotation which was so widely circulated, he must have had such doubt removed. For it was plain from the speeches that what is good for America is what General Motors considers paramount for itself.

Thus, just a year ago when the prophets of gloom were shaking their heads and predicting a depression, Mr. Curtice stood before the same group of business men and predicted that there would be a continuing high level of employment and consumer expenditures, with unprecedented housing starts and a gross national product not far from the 1953 level. But he startled his audience then by announcing that General Motors was planning an expansion program of a billion dollars, which has since grown by a half billion. Such was his confidence in the future.

"I TOLD YOU SO"

This time Mr. Curtice was able to say "I told you so." For his 1954 prediction as to car sales and volume of business were right on the button. General Motors crossed the ten billion mark in sales, and the whole industry produced close to 7,000,000 auto units.

Mr. Curtice is optimistic about 1955, which he thinks will be a great year in business. He foresees a gross national product for 1955 of $370 billions, which is a three per cent increase over last year. He added:

"A world-wide strengthening of national economies is clearly evident. I was greatly impressed with the economic recovery in England and six European countries which I visited last fall. . . . The increasing productivity and prosperity of the free world contributed added strength to our own economy."

Mr. Sloan was stimulatory, too, as he presented, in extemporaneous remarks, his appraisal of the future. He said:

"The interesting thing is it took us 32 years to make the first 25 million automobiles and 14 years to make the second 25 million. Now how long is it going to take us in America to make the third 25 million? I won't make a prophecy. That belongs to Mr. Curtice but I venture to say it will be less than eight years."

Mr. Sloan pointed out that there has been an enormous expansion of auto plants abroad and that less and less export from America might be in prospect. He said that this was one reason why General Motors had just invested two hundred million dollars in production facilities in England, on the continent of Europe, and in Australia.

MORE RESEARCH NEEDED

Calling on business men to do more basic research, Mr. Sloan stressed the importance of scientific discovery and technological improvement. But his most significant statement was in relation to "the economic climate in which business is operating today." He declared:

"For over 20 years, we had all kinds of discouragement from the standpoint of national economic policies—repression of industry, lack of appreciation of the great force and power of expanding the economy. This is now finished and, as I forecast last year in supporting Mr. Curtice's program of a billion-dollar expansion, I make the point that we are entering an era wherein business will be encouraged by more incentive, eliminating many things that have held us back for so many years."

"My plea to you gentlemen is this: Let us plan boldly in expansion and development. Don't let's wait until the thing is before us. Let's forecast that it is going to happen and let's go ahead and do the job before it happens. In that way, the job will be done in a bigger and better seven, for example, was Jack Benny time."

This was a fitting supplement to the predictions of business growth made by Mr. Curtice as he declared that population by 1962 may total 184 million and that the number of households should increase from 48 to 54 million, "creating a tremendous demand for homes, motor vehicles and other goods and services."

Nowhere in the world, as the speakers indicated, has any industrial group demonstrated "such faith in the economy of its nation or such confidence in its own future as has the automobile industry."

It was an inspiring sermon of true progressivism for all business and industry. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

THE STORY: Johnny Fletcher and Sam Cragg are trying to collect a bad debt on a bet with J. J. Kilkenny, a skip-tracer. The debtor is Alice Cummings who defaulted on a cheap fur coat. They have learned that she has been seen with young Jess Carmichael, a playboy, and they trick him into giving them her address.

IV

Johnny said to the switchboard operator in the Chateau Pelham, "Tell her Mr. Carmichael sent me."

The operator repeated the information into the phone, then nodded to Johnny. "Four-D."

They rode up in the automatic elevator to the fourth floor.

The door was opened by Alice Cummings, and Johnny knew why the hotel clerk at the Hotel Chesterton still remembered her. She was that kind of a girl. Blond, tall.

"Do I know you boys?" she asked in a voice that soothed, like molten lava. Behind Johnny, Sam Cragg whistled softly.

"We just left Jess at the club," Johnny said. "Sober?" Without waiting for a reply, she opened the door and Johnny and Sam went into the apartment.

It was nice. It was worth around two hundred a month and probably cost three fifty. "To cut a long story short," Johnny said, "four years ago you bought a fur coat from the Arctic Fur Company . . ."

The love and kisses faded from Alice's face. "What?" she cried shrilly.

"Seventy-four dollars. That's what you owe. You can give it to me in small bills."

"Why, you lousy—" began Alice Cummings. Then she caught herself. "What's this, a gag?"

"The Acme Adjustment Agency does not just madam," said Johnny severely. "I'm skip tracer. You skipped with the peats and I skip-traced you. This is payday. Seventy-four dollars, lady. Cash. Checks not accepted."

"Ha ha," said Alice humorlessly. "I laughed. The gag's a howl. Now scram, boys. I've got a date."

Johnny put his hand against the door and pushed it shut. "The money—or the coat."

"What coat? That rabbit skin wore out ages ago. I paid more for that junk than it was worth."

"The Acme Adjustment Agency says uh-uh. We're bloodhounds. We get the money from you or it gives blood. I mean it, sister. Seventy-four dollars on the line or I'll blow the whistle."

"Now, wait a minute," the girl said, suddenly desperate. "You gave the name of Jess Carmichael so you'd get it. How—how did you know about him?"

"We saw him, lady," cried Sam. "We talked to him at the Harover Club."

"Shut up, Sam," exclaimed Johnny. "But he's right, baby it was old Jess himself who gave us your address."

"Jess," whispered Alice. "So it's come to this."

She suddenly whirled and strode into the bedroom. She came out immediately, carrying a purse. "All right," she said angrily, "take your money. And I hope you choke on it!"

She tore open the bag, brought out a wallet and skimmed out a sheaf of bills, all that were in the wallet. Johnny counted the money. He shook his head.

"There's only $57 here, madam."

"That's all the money I've got in the place. I'll send you a check for the balance."

"You weren't listening, lady. I said no checks."

The phone whirred and Alice scooped it up. "Yes?" She listened a moment, then her face showed a sudden fright. "Mr. Carmichael, Y-yes, tell him to come up."

She slammed down the receiver. "Get out of here. Right away."

"Seventeen dollars, baby . . ."

Fayette For Sale With Buried Cash; Price Only $65,000

DETROIT (AP)—For sale: one ghost town.

If you've ever had the desire to treasure hunt for gold, here's your chance.

The town of Fayette pop. 000 is up for sale.

A Detroit owner is asking $65,000, which, if you believe in legend, could be the buy of the year. A treasure is supposed to be buried somewhere near Fayette.

Where is Fayette? It is in the Garden Peninsula of the Upper Peninsula, not too far from Escanaba.

Once a booming community of 1,000 persons, Fayette died many years ago after its timber reserves ran out. All that remains are dark crumbling buildings, dust, quiet . . . and the hope that a treasure REALLY is buried somewhere.

The fascinating legend concerns one Alphonse Bellanguette. It goes like this:

Back in 1872, Bellanguette, a French-Canadian, came to Fayette, then a charcoal iron smelting town. He established a tavern, symbolically named "Hole in the Ground."

Bellanguette didn't trust anyone. Not even his wife. So he buried his profits. On moonlight nights he could be seen slipping away with a bundle of cash in one hand and a shovel in the other.

On his death bed, it is said, he drew a map revealing the whereabouts of his fortune.

But before you head for Fayette, let it be pointed out that others have tried—and failed—to uncover the lost gold.

WASPS MOVE MOVER

WESTPORT, Conn. (AP)—Conrad Gosselin, 25, was riding on the roof of a house being moved. His head brushed a wasp nest on a tree branch. The next stop was a hospital.

Better Times Are Coming, Farmers To'd By Benson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson told Congress the postwar decline in farm income has just about stopped and farmers may look forward to "economic stability and continued growth."

"The small changes in farm income and farm prices between 1953 and 1954 suggest," he said, "that most of the postwar adjustment has been completed, and that we are in a period of comparative stability."

Benson made his forecast in testimony before the Senate Agriculture Committee. He had been invited to appear before the committee to discuss the farm situation and outlook.

He said the general economic situation is good and agriculture will share in the "growth and prosperity ahead of us, to the extent it continues to apply science and technology to its production and merchandising."

Benson told the committee that the administration's farm programs—embracing flexible price supports, crop control measures, and programs for disposal of surpluses—is operating satisfactorily.

Some Democratic farm leaders in Congress have indicated that they will seek this year to repeal portions of the administration's program, particularly flexible price supports, and restore the war-born high rigid floors which were dropped last year.

Contract Bridge

By Josephine Culbertson

THE FATAL ACTION

The North-South bidding in the hand below contained several questionable actions, but in the final analysis it was North's last bid that did the damage.

North dealer. Both sides vulnerable.

♦ A Q J 6 5 3
♦ K 10 4
♦ Q 10 5

♦ 9 7 6 5 2
♦ 10 6 4 3
♦ J 4 3

The bidding:

North East South West
1 ♠ 2 ♦ Dble. Pass
3 ♠ Pass 4 ♦ Dble.
Pass Pass 5 ♦ Dble.
5 ♦ Pass Pass Dble.
Pass Pass Pass

The 5-1 break of trumps gave South an insoluble problem at his five-heart contract, and the outcome was an 800-point penalty. This was all the more crushing from the North-South point of view when it became clear that five clubs—a contract that South was in all too briefly—would have been easy to fulfill.

It is obvious that South had bidding troubles almost from start to finish. His double of two diamonds was clear-cut enough, but that was his only easy decision. When North took out the double to three spades, indicating great diamond shortness but definite hope of game, South certainly could not be expected to pass, simply because he was void in spades. The very fact that North didn't like diamonds implied that he could support hearts or clubs so South tried out his major suit first because, for one thing, he could land at a cheaper game contract, and for another, he could run to the lower-ranking club suit if the four-heart bid was doubled.

North should have realized that although South might have a four-card heart suit, he certainly would not have tried to rescue himself in such a short club suit at the five-level, and so, instead of woodenly "taking South back," North obviously should have accepted the five-club contract, doubled or not doubled.

Merger Spurned
By Presbyterians

ATLANTA (AP)—Southern Presbyterians have defeated a plan to merge the three branches of the Presbyterian Church into the Presbyterian Church of the United States.

The Southerners started the present move 17 years ago and then finally voted against it Tuesday. Church leaders generally were disappointed but remained firm in the conviction that union of the three branches with a membership of 3½ million was inevitable in the next few years.

Tuesday 23 Southern presbyteries (districts) voted on the suggestion to end the split which originally developed over the slavery question in 1861. The results: 14 against, 7 for, 2 still to be heard from.

The 26 negative votes were more than enough to kill the plan. Only 22 were needed, as approval of three-fourths of the 86 presbyteries was required for acceptance.

Approval would have united the 757,000 - member Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (Southern) with the 2½-million - member Presbyterian Church in the U.S. (mostly Northern) and the 229,000-member United Presbyterian Church (largely Midwestern).

Top governing bodies of all three branches, called the general assemblies, approved the merger last year and the voting was on ratification by the regional presbyteries.

Northern presbyteries have been coming out solidly for the union, with endorsement already received from 48 of the 256 districts.

Lois Etzold Is
Guest Speaker
At Club Meeting

Mrs. Lois Etzold of Chicago, model and fashion coordinator, guest speaker at Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the Escanaba Woman's Club at Westminster Hall, First Presbyterian Church, stressed practical down to earth aspects of fashion, make-up, grooming and charm development.

Mrs. Etzold, in opening her talk, spoke on the basic figure control, summing it up with the statement that "what one doesn't take in, one doesn't put on." By quietly changing eating habits, rather than by following various diets, weight gain which usually comes with later years can be successfully controlled, she said.

Happiness Is Charm

Charm, she defined, as a woman's capacity for happiness. "A happy person," she said, "is naturally charming and this can be encouraged by less interest in one's self and more interest in others."

The dictionary definition of poise which is balance, is also true of personal poise, she continued. This, she emphasized, may be attained by careful attention to dress and grooming. With the feeling that one looks his best, self may more easily be forgotten, freeing the individual to give more attention to others, the secret of charm.

New fashion color combinations were described by the speaker and the Dior H-line was strongly recommended.

An informal question and answer period followed her talk.

Committee Reports

At the business meeting conducted by Mrs. James R. Fitzharris, club president, reports were given by committee chairmen.

Mrs. Roy B. Johnson, philanthropic chairman, reported that two Thanksgiving baskets and 35 Christmas baskets were distributed and 22 dolls were dressed and given to children at Christmas time. Mrs. E. G. Bennett, public health committee treasurer, announced that $1,500 was the total of the committee's Christmas seal sale. Mrs. Robert Losse, Charity Ball co-chairman, presented a check for $608 to Mrs. William Sheepeck, philanthropic committee treasurer, the proceeds of the annual holiday benefit. Mrs. M. H. Garrard Jr., after reporting on the expenses of the "Messiah" concert, presented a check for $250 to Mrs. E. L. Pohl, chairman of the needy children's fund. Mrs. Pohl reported that she has collected clothing for many children in need and appealed to members for donations of good used clothes.

Winter Scene

The tea table was attractively decorated with a winter snow scene centerpiece. Mrs. John J. Walsh and Mrs. Fitzharris poured.

Mrs. Joseph H. Ivens was chairman of the hostess committee, assisted by the Mesdames Evelyn Christensen, Oscar Kraus, A. D. LaBranche, Fred Leighton, Donald LeMire, Harold P. Lindsay and B. B. Loveland.

Such luxury is in appearance only. Actually, the cost of ruffled sunsuits and can-can panties in nylon is very low and wearing qualities remarkable. Upkeep is easy since, of course, these small garments wash and dry quickly and never need ironing.

'55 Conservation Program Will Be Reviewed Jan. 25

Officials of the State Conservation department will meet here Tuesday night with members of the Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's club for discussion of the department's 1955 program.

Members of the club have been asked to submit questions in writing for a legislative panel. Deer herd management, trout fishing, grouse and partridge regulations, and stream improvement are among topics expected to be covered.

The meeting will begin at 8 p. m., and will be held in the club-house. All club members and persons interested in conservation are invited to attend.

The conservation department and state legislature frequently depend upon sportsmen's clubs to obtain information on sentiment and opinion regarding conservation programs. Mervin White, club president, noted. This function, he said, is one of the main purposes for organization of the clubs.

The Schoolcraft unit, White pointed out, hopes to have adequate controls established for wildlife in this area before the bridge at the Straits of Mackinac is completed.

Increasing population in the United States, and anticipated increases in the number of hunters and fishermen visiting this area when the bridge is completed, makes a program of planning for the future necessary, he stated.

C. B. Beaulieu Taken By Death

NEWBERRY—Charles B. Beaulieu Sr., 83, of Newberry, who for many years was a member of the 4th degree Knights of Columbus assembly here, died at 8:40 p. m., Tuesday at his home. He had been ill a short time.

Beaulieu was born in St. Pierre, Que., Can., Sept. 18, 1871, and in 1887 came to the United States, settling in Marquette. He later moved to Dollarville and from there went to Newberry in 1888. A year afterwards he moved to Ishpeming and, following a year's residence, went to Grand Marais, where he operated a livery business until 1908. While in Grand Marais, Beaulieu served as township clerk and also was clerk of the board of education.

In 1908, he returned to Newberry and purchased the Jenkins Furniture Store and Funeral Store and Funeral Home, operating it until his retirement in 1945. His son now operates the funeral home at Newberry.

In addition to his membership in Council 2026, K. of C., here, Beaulieu was a member of Knights of Columbus Council 2929 in Newberry, and for 56 years he has been a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters and the Woodmen of America.

During his residence in Newberry, Beaulieu served on the Luce County road commission, from 1936 to 1949, and was village president for two years. He also served as a member of the village council and the board of education.

He leaves his wife, Eva; a son, Charles Jr., and three daughters, Mrs. Helen Evans, of Lincoln Park, Mich., Mrs. Ora Webb, of Glen Ferris, Va., and Mrs. Francis Arnold of Jamesville, Minn. Also surviving are nine grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Alvina Surrell of Newberry.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m., Friday at St. Gregory church in Newberry with the Rev. Emil Beyer officiating. Burial will be in Forest Home cemetery at Newberry.

Testing Program, Aims Told To PTA By Hinze

William Hinze, testing and guidance counsellor for the Gladstone Public School system, described the program which he is conducting at a meeting of the Central Parent-Teachers Association this week.

The program begins with kindergarten pupils which in May are tested for reading readiness. In the first grade another reading readiness test is given in September. Second graders are given a reading test in the middle of the year and in the third grade there is a reading test in October and a mental maturity (IQ) test in the middle of the year.

Fourth graders are given an achievement test, arithmetic reasoning, arithmetic fundamentals, reading, vocabulary, mechanics of English and grammar and spelling. Fifth graders get a reading test in September, arithmetic in October, and IQ test in January. Sixth graders are tested in reading in January and arithmetic in February while 7th graders receive only a reading test in October, and 8th graders an IQ test in the middle of the year. Eighth graders also are given achievement tests in literature, reading, spelling, vocabulary, history, government and civics, geography, arithmetic fundamentals and arithmetic reasoning. This test issued as a counseling instrument for parent and student to talk to either Elmer Peterson, Don Pfotenhauer, Wallace Cameron or William Hinze to select curriculum for the next four years.

In the 9th grade, the Kuder preference (an interest inventory) is conducted and students are consulted to learn what they intend to do while in high school and to learn what goal they have set for themselves.

Reading comprehension is given to 10th graders, while Juniors receive the American Council of Education Psychological examination, a form of IQ test.

Seniors, Hinze said, receive a Kuder Preference test and this is the last chance for help in deciding what the future will hold. There is also an IQ for those who will seek additional education.

A group of standardized exams also are given at the end of the year to be used as a yardstick to determine if Gladstone is accomplishing its task as well as other schools in the United States. Algebra, Geometry, World History, American history, chemistry, physics, English and Biology are included.

All records are kept in permanent file, the speaker said, and are used as a means to an end. The end is a better well-rounded personality, character and academic student.

Entertainment was presented by Brownie Girl Scout Troops 33 and 36.

The PTA went on record as favoring selling tickets for the movie Heidi in order to raise funds to help purchase band uniforms.

In the 9th grade, the Kuder preference (an interest inventory) is included.

With Ray Crandall

Hughes Motors of Gladstone rolled a "302 total last week, the highest in the league this season and the second highest in league play at the Midway. Members of the team are Alice Krout, Rose Bracke, Micky Esler, Evelyn Skellenger and Bernadette VerHamme.

For the first time in a number of weeks, Holy Name cage coach Tom St. Germain plans on starting the same five players in Saturday's game that started in the last contest. Slated for action are Mike Venne and Gary Paler at guards, Joe Juetten and Arnold Henriksen at forwards and John Berrigan at center. At least those were the players who were supposed to start last week, but Venne was under the weather and didn't get in until later in the game.

Some big athletic doings coming up in the next two weeks. On Saturday the Upper Peninsula sports writers and broadcasters will be guests of Michigan Tech at the second annual Sports Round-up in Houghton. A week from Saturday the Norway Moose will honor football players and other athletes from Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Norway, Vulcan and Niagara, Wis. Also invited are all members of the 1954 All-U. P. football team and Coach of the Year, selected by the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association.

Speaking of football, two Upper Peninsula athletes received honorable mention on the 1954 national high school All-American grid team. Gene Tomassucci, tackle, and Eddie Vargara, halfback, of the Iron River Redskins received that honor. Thousands of players from throughout the nation were considered for the squad which is announced annually by a group of men known as the Wigwam Wisemen of America.

Escanaba, Holy Name Face Weekend Basketball Trips

Escanaba and Holy Name are fresh from cage victories in their last starts as they head into a weekend of basketball activity on the road.

Coach Jim Betchek's young Eskimos turned back a tall Menominee Maroon quint, 73-68 last Friday and will be shooting for a rare double win over the Ishpeming Hematites at Ishpeming Friday night.

The Holy Name Crusaders, after a so-so start, have swept to four straight victories and will be going for No. 5 in a row at Gwinn Saturday night.

Braves Are Idle

Gladstone, after a hectic three games in five days, is idle this weekend. The Braves return to action Friday, Jan. 28, at Ishpeming.

The Manistique Emeralds suffered a surprise reverse at Marquette Saturday night and will be out to avenge it against Munising Friday night and Stephenson Saturday.

Tiger Jones Throws Hitch In Comeback Plans Of Sugar Ray

From all indications, it is the end of Sugar Ray's ring comeback, but Robinson himself insists he

Rockets Win 5 To 2 Over Raider Sextet

The Northtown Rockets notched a 5-2 victory over the Southside Raiders in Escanaba's junior hockey program last night.

Corry Johnson hit two goals and Bob Stropich, Bob Gardner and Buck Gardner registered one each for the winners. Dick Paler and John Nelson scored for the losers.

Musial Likely To Be First Baseman

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Don't be surprised if Stan Musial winds up the regular St. Louis Cardinal first baseman again next season.

The Musical switch figure, especially if Bill Virdon, the spectacular rookie outfielder from Rochester, comes through. Virdon captured the International League batting crown with a .333 average. The 23-year-old lefthanded slugger is faster, has a stronger throwing arm and is a better defensive outfielder than Wally Moon, who won the National League rookie award with the Cardinals last season.

Need Good Pitchers

Another Cardinal rookie is Don Blasingame, the Texas League all-star shortstop. A .315 hitter at Houston, he is being converted into a second baseman.

Virdon should make it, manager Eddie Stanky probably will play him in center field, switch Moon to left and keep Rip Repulski in right.

Could Change Deal

Musial, easily the best defensive first baseman on the club, could shift to first, a position he played on and off from 1946 through '52.

Of course, this neat arrangement could go up in smoke should either Joe Cunningham or Tom Alston catch fire in spring training.

Alston opened last season as St. Louis' first baseman but wound up in Rochester where he batted .297 and hit seven homers in 79 games. Cunningham stepped right into the Rochester lineup following his Army discharge and became the regular first baseman, hitting a creditable .284 in 85 games, including 11 homers.

The trade which sent Ray Jablonski to Cincinnati has practically assured the regular third base job to 23-year-old rookie Ken Boyer, who burned up the Texas League with his brilliant play afield and at bat. He hit .319 for Houston.

Each fighter weighed 159 pounds.

"I want to continue," Robinson insisted later. "I think Jones was just too tough an opponent for a second fight. But being egotistical I wanted to take him on even though Joe Glaser (Ray's business manager) was against it from the start."

Robinson Is Cut

Time and again, Jones drove Robinson into the ropes and mauled him pitifully. Sugar Ray's right eyebrow and nose bled throughout most of the scrap and at times his arms dangled as if helplessly weighted down.

All three officials scored it heavily for the 26-year-old Jones—referee Frank Sikora voting 99-94, Judge Ed Hintz 100-88 and Judge Ed Walsh 98-89.

Each fighter weighed 159 pounds. "I want to continue," Robinson insisted later. "I think Jones was just too tough an opponent for a second fight. But being egotistical I wanted to take him on even though Joe Glaser (Ray's business manager) was against it from the start."

"I think we ought to do away with the NCAA hockey tournament at Colorado Springs. It's no longer a national or U. S. championship because of the domination of Canadian hockey talent."

At news conference Tuesday, Jeremiah said that "Canadian players are making a farce out of the so-called championship." He added:

"I think we ought to do away with the NCAA hockey tournament at Colorado Springs. It's no longer a national or U. S. championship because of the domination of Canadian hockey talent."

CHICAGO (AP)—With the Big Ten Basketball season about one-third over, the new bonus free throw rule has made for a trend of higher scoring games and less fouling, the conference's statistical department reported today Thursday.

Big Ten teams are averaging a combined total of 168 points per game, 24 more than last season. They are scoring 48.2 free throws per game to 45.8 last year and are being called for only 42.5 fouls a game compared to 45.7.

The bonus rule that permits a second free throw if the first one is made reflects the trend, but greater shooting accuracy also is apparent. Eight teams currently are hitting better than 37.7 per cent from the field that Ohio State topped the league with last year, Iowa, which defeated Illinois Monday 92-80, tops team scoring with an average of 88 points, followed by Minnesota with 85.8, Iowa ranks second on defense and Minnesota third.

Northwestern, Iowa's television opponent Saturday, has scored on 43.9 per cent of its shots from the court to lead the Big Ten. Iowa is next with 43.1 and the Gophers third with 41.7. Wisconsin heads the free throw percentage with 75.7.

Ohio State's Robin Freeman continues as the scoring pacesetter with an average of 35.6, followed by Indiana's Don Schlundt with 30.4 and Minnesota's Dick Garman with 28.0.

Michigan State's Duane Peterson retains his shooting percentage lead with an average of 60.5 but has attempted only 43 shots. His point average is 13.6.

Hawks Play Host To Radar '6' Tonight

With two successive tie games behind them, the Escanaba Hawks will attempt to swing back to the win column tonight when they tackle the Calumet Radars for the first time this season on the fairgrounds ice. Opening faceoff is scheduled for 8:15.

The Hawks played the Marquette Sentinels to a 3-3 standstill in a rousing game here Tuesday night. It was probably the Hawks' best performance of the season as Escanaba's scrappy sextet outplayed the invaders in every phase of the game.

In their previous start the Hawks battled Portage Lake to a 6-6 draw and it took a tremendous Pioneer rally late in the game to gain the tie.

Coach Mark Olson reports the Hawks at full strength for tonight's game and expects to have 15 players in uniform. No injuries resulted from the rugged but clean contest against the Sentinels.

With all players available, the Hawks will open with Joe Ricci and Joe Nogalo on defense, Tony Mancini, Warner Wilson and Almo Muhausen on the line and Ben Artwich in the net.

That will leave Olson, Buddy Provo and Steve Butorac for a second line and Bill Suriano, Bob Higgins and Ricci for a third. Defensive spares are Dick Johnson, Mike Otis, Clarence Matt and Floyd Stac.

The Calumet Radars come here with an impressive record of four wins, two losses and a tie. The veteran Radar team has defeated every other club in the Northern Michigan-Ontario League this season. It is the only team with a victory over the Canadian Soo Esquires.

The Hawks defeated Calumet, 7-4, when the rivals met Jan. 8 in Calumet.

The Calumet lineup will be loaded with players who are familiar to Escanaba fans from past seasons. Clyde (Crusher) Berryman is back in the Calumet goal with veterans Don Nichols and Enku Kemp in the fold. Others seen here in past games are Gordon Moyle, Donald Pavalich, John Dahlgren, Fred Barry, Mike Hill, Clayton Manninen, Owen O'Brien, John Jukuri, Roy Joupneri, Bob Makolin and Merv Paulson.

Blackhawks Score 9-1 Victory Over Indians

GLADSTONE—The Escanaba Blackhaws showed plenty of class here last night as they trimmed the Gladstone Indians 9-1 in an Upper Peninsula Amateur Hockey League clash.

Almo Muhausen, youthful Canadian star who also operates with the Escanaba Hawks, led the Blackhaws on their scoring rampage with four goals. John Brown chipped in two and Dave Mileski, Eddy Provo and Boots Boucher scored one each.

The Blackhaws opened with a pair of goals in the first period, pushed four more past Leon Mileski in the second and tapered off with three in the third. The Gladstone score came in the second period, registered by Melvin Olson, defensemen.

The game was the first for Escanaba's junior team this season. The Crusaders of Holy Name will be facing Gwinn for the first time this season. Gladstone played to a 3-3 tie with the Menominee Wildcats in the league opener last weekend.

Gordon Haga, Gladstone manager, said the Indians will play at Marquette Prison Sunday afternoon. A practice session will be held Saturday afternoon.

Berrigan Averages 27.3

Slated for starting action for Holy Name are John Berrigan at center, Joe Juetten and Arnold Henriksen at forwards, Gary Palmer and Mike Venne at guards. All are Juniors.

Berrigan will enter the game with a 27.3 scoring average per contest. He has hit for 246 points in nine starts.

Holy Name's four straight wins have come over an Alumni team, Bishop Baraga, L'Anse and Gladstone. The Crusaders have won six and lost three thus far this season.

Canadian Puck Stars Defended

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Vic Heylinger, University of Michigan hockey coach, says attacks by eastern coaches on Canadian players in U. S. collegiate hockey are "sour grapes."

Miffed by statements made to newsmen by Dartmouth coach Eddie Jeremiah, Heylinger declared that Jeremiah "has had losing seasons for so many years he is frustrated."

With his timing off, and with most of his best shots whizzing harmlessly past the Tiger's noggin, Robinson rustily tried to fight off his stalking foe with combinations that were weak imitations of the broadsides that had blasted a record of 137 victories in 142 bouts.

Calling for Alphas will be Pauline Kelly, five-foot-two and 117 pounds. Jackie Trafford of Gammas is five-foot-seven, 130.

About 16 girls are expected to dress for each team, using regulation shoulder harness, helmets, jerseys and other gear. However, the heavy, cleated boots proved too cumbersome (also they couldn't find any small enough) so the girls will run in sneakers.

Robinson Is Cut

Time and again, Jones drove Robinson into the ropes and mauled him pitifully. Sugar Ray's right eyebrow and nose bled throughout most of the scrap and at times his arms dangled as if helplessly weighted down.

All three officials scored it heavily for the 26-year-old Jones—referee Frank Sikora voting 99-94, Judge Ed Hintz 100-88 and Judge Ed Walsh 98-89.

Each fighter weighed 159 pounds.

"I want to continue," Robinson insisted later. "I think Jones was just too tough an opponent for a second fight. But being egotistical I wanted to take him on even though Joe Glaser (Ray's business manager) was against it from the start."

"I think we ought to do away with the NCAA hockey tournament at Colorado Springs. It's no longer a national or U. S. championship because of the domination of Canadian hockey talent."

At news conference Tuesday, Jeremiah said that "Canadian players are making a farce out of the so-called championship." He added:

"I think we ought to do away with the NCAA hockey tournament at Colorado Springs. It's no longer a national or U. S. championship because of the domination of Canadian hockey talent."

CHICAGO (AP)—With the Big Ten Basketball season about one-third over, the new bonus free throw rule has made for a trend of higher scoring games and less fouling, the conference's statistical department reported today Thursday.

Big Ten teams are averaging a combined total of 168 points per game, 24 more than last season. They are scoring 48.2 free throws per game to 45.8 last year and are being called for only 42.5 fouls a game compared to 45.7.

The bonus rule that permits a second free throw if the first one is made reflects the trend, but greater shooting accuracy also is apparent. Eight teams currently are hitting better than 37.7 per cent from the field that Ohio State topped the league with last year, Iowa, which defeated Illinois Monday 92-80, tops team scoring with an average of 88 points, followed by Minnesota with 85.8, Iowa ranks second on defense and Minnesota third.

Northwestern, Iowa's television opponent Saturday, has scored on 43.9 per cent of its shots from the court to lead the Big Ten. Iowa is next with 43.1 and the Gophers third with 41.7. Wisconsin heads the free throw percentage with 75.7.

Ohio State's Robin Freeman continues as the scoring pacesetter with an average of 35.6, followed by Indiana's Don Schlundt with 30.4 and Minnesota's Dick Garman with 28.0.

Michigan State's Duane Peterson retains his shooting percentage lead with an average of 60.5 but has attempted only 43 shots. His point average is 13.6.

McMahon Leads Field In Bowling Tourney

CHICAGO (P) —Junie McMahon, two time winner of the National All - Star bowling tournament, averaging 210 for 36 games, led a field of 14 qualifiers into match game finals today.

The 42-year-old Fair Lawn, N.J. kegler had a squeeze to take over the lead for the qualifying rounds, edging young Eddie Lubanski of Detroit by only two pins. Forty-six of the 224 shooters who started the tourney competed in Wednesday's semi-final rounds, firing 12 games.

For the 36 games since the opening of the tourney last Saturday McMahon posted a score of 7,563 to 7,561 for Lubanski. McMahon, who won both the 1949 and 1951 All-Star tourneys, took over the lead Wednesday with a six-game 1,338 and finished his marathon with 1,259.

Needed Special Rolloff

The qualifying matches did not finish until around 3:30 a. m. (CST) today, a special six-game rolloff being necessary to decide a tie for 14th place. In the rolloff, Steve Nagy of Cleveland shot 1,280 to beat Graz Castellano of New York who finished with 1,145.

In the women's division, Merle Matthews, a Long Beach, Calif., stenographer, paced the field with a score of 4,679 for 24 games, an average of 199. Peggy Farley, a southpaw bowler of Panorama City, Calif., trailed by only 43 pins. The 14 finalists will be joined

Big Offer For Rocky To Fight In Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (P)—A group of local sportsmen has made an attractive guarantee to Rocky Marciano to defend his heavyweight title against British champion Don Cockell here in May.

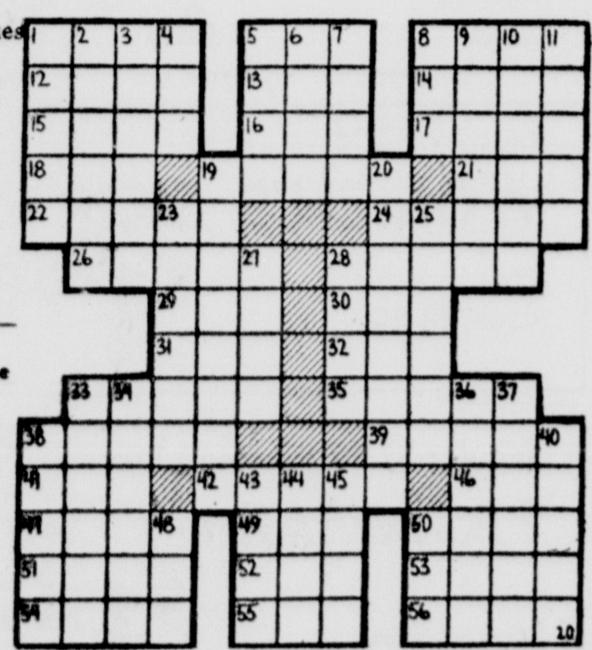

Hank Greenspun, publisher of the Las Vegas Sun and chairman of the group, said a meeting will be held Friday with a representative of the International Boxing Club to discuss the offer. Beldon Klemek said he and other hotel owners would guarantee "up to $300,000" to get the match for Las Vegas.

In New York, Marciano's manager, Al Weill, said he had talked with Greenspun and others "but they made no $300,000 offer not anywhere near it." Weill said he has a $350,000 offer from San Francisco.

Business Men Eye Big Highway Budget

NEW YORK (AP)—Many businessmen have an eye on that 101 billion dollars that may be handed out over the next 10 years for roads.

The program would provide a good steady market for many products—cement, steel, earth moving machinery. And new road building processes and products are being developed.

If highways improve to a point where you can enjoy driving again, instead of spending your Sundays in traffic jams, it will make the selling task of the auto salesman easier, and doubtless inspire Detroit to greater production.

Steel mills will be busily turning out material for bridges, ramps, guard rails, signs, and miles of steel fence. But there's a lot more steel that doesn't meet the eye.

Much goes into reinforcing concrete roadways as traffic grows heavier. And there's the lowly culvert.

More than 1½ million tons of steel went into highway projects in 1954, when federal, state and local agencies spent about four billion dollars on roads. This year spending is expected to go up by almost one billion more, and steel consumption is expected to approach two million tons.

But if the big spending plan is adopted by the federal and state governments, the American Road Builders' Assn. estimates that highway construction will increase rapidly till it hits a peak stride of around 11 billion dollars in 1958, where it would stay until 1965. This would require about 5 1/4 million tons of steel products each year.

Accuses TV As Curb To Talent

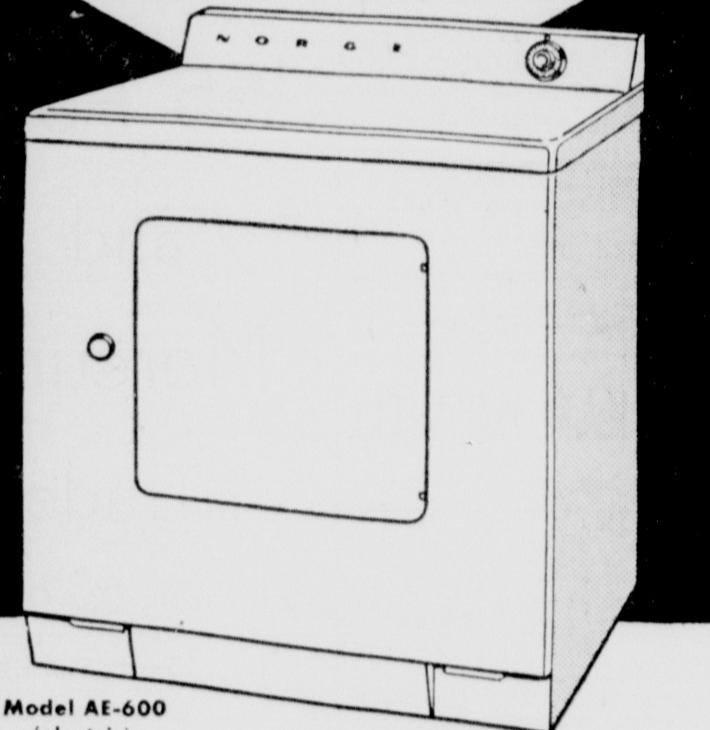

DETROIT (AP)—Teachers of creative writing consider television a barrier to good writing, says Thomas Cauley head of the Denby High School English Department.

"What we stress in writing is simplicity, and you don't learn anything about simplicity from television," he says.

"TV programs, he said, are complex and involved."

"We tell the students to write about their own experience," Cauley said. "But very few of them think they have anything interesting to write about. So many are used to the tangled plots of television, the constant action on screen and frequent bursts of calous brutality. They fail to understand there is beauty in writing about a quiet day in the country."
